

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

All iRODS users have:

- Access to software distributions, source code, and plugins.
- Access to general training and support documentation.
- The ability to develop and market iRODS plugins.
- Participation in open Consortium forums (e.g., the annual iRODS User Group).

However, Consortium membership provides these special opportunities:

	General Member	Professional Member	Sustaining Member	Premier Member
Annual dues	$10k	$35k	$75k	$150k
Consultation, training, and support (hours per year). Hours may be spent on software development, installation, administration, and customized training and documentation.	10	40	80	300
Participation in the Consortium Technology Working Group, including...	★	★	★	★
Participation in the development of software release roadmaps, architectural plans, standards, as well as oversight of development and testing efforts.	★	★	★	★
Participation in open and exclusive forums and events (e.g., receptions, conference meet-ups, networking events).	★	★	★	★
Participation in the Consortium Planning Committee, including...		★	★	★
Voting rights on software release roadmaps, prioritization of feature requests, and other proposals submitted by the Consortium Technology Working Group.		★	★	★
Voting rights on recommendations made to the Consortium Executive Board that are related to governance of the Consortium.		★	★	★
Rights to host branded events at Consortium forums.		★	★	★
Distribution of member's marketing materials, in web and print, at Consortium forums and events.		★	★	★
Participation in the Consortium Executive Board, including...			★	★
Voting rights on issues related to the Consortium budget, staffing, bylaws, etc.			★	★
Complimentary hosting and management of member-provided equipment (up to 10U) in the RENC Data Center, for the purposes of continuous integration and testing.*				★

*Non-premier members may attain hosting and management at the rate of $1000 per rack unit per month.