

iRODS Consortium Contributor License Agreement

Version: Dec 01 2014

Thank you for your interest in the iRODS project. The nonprofit iRODS Consortium (or its successor or replacement organization), a collaborative initiative hosted by the Renaissance Computing Institute (RENCI) at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (the "Consortium") is the community home for the open source iRODS project, coordinating development efforts and managing the intellectual property to assure the long-term availability and sustainability of the open source iRODS code (the "Purpose"). In order to clarify the intellectual property rights granted pursuant to your contribution, the Consortium requires that you execute this contributor license agreement (the "Agreement"). This Agreement does not change your personal rights to continue to use your Contributions in any way and helps to ensure that iRODS will always be released under an open source license.

This Agreement is entered into by and between the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill on behalf of the Consortium, or its successor or other organization dedicated to the Purpose, with an address at 100 Europa Drive, Suite 540, Chapel Hill, NC 27517-2357 (the "University") and _____ with an address at _____ ("Contributor" or "you"). This Agreement applies to any Contribution (defined below) that you make to the Consortium. Please read this document carefully before signing. This document constitutes a binding legal agreement. By signing you accept the following terms:

1. Contribution. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Contribution" means any code, documentation, or other content or materials that you provide or have provided as more specifically described in Exhibit A. Should you provide additional Contributions in the future, then you agree to provide a signed and updated exhibit setting forth the new Contribution and your employment status at the time it was developed by you (e.g., Exhibit A-2, A-3, etc.).
2. Grant of Copyright. Contributor hereby grants to the University on behalf of the Consortium a perpetual, irrevocable, non-exclusive, worldwide, fully paid-up, royalty-free, unrestricted license to reproduce, prepare derivative works of, sublicense, and distribute any Contributions. Contributor further agrees not to assert any moral rights in any Contributions against the University or the Consortium and not to grant an exclusive license, or otherwise try and assign or sell your rights, to Contribution in any manner inconsistent with the rights granted University hereunder.
3. Freedom to Operate. With respect to any patents necessarily infringed by Contribution, that you now or will own or control, you hereby grant the University on behalf of the Consortium a perpetual, irrevocable, fully paid-up, non-exclusive, royalty-free, sublicenseable, worldwide license under such patents to the extent necessary for the University to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer or use Contribution for the Purpose.

4. Ability to Grant. You represent that you can legally grant the above rights and that your employment status at the time of creating your Contribution(s) is accurately set forth in Exhibit A. You represent that the Contributions are your original works of authorship and that to the best of your knowledge, no other person or entity claims, or has the right to claim, any copyright, patent or other intellectual property rights necessary to grant the rights contemplated under this Agreement.
5. Consortium Determines Codebase. Contributor understands that the decision to include the Contribution in any product or source repository is at the complete discretion of the Consortium and this Agreement does not guarantee that the Contribution will be included in any product or platform.
6. Open Source Projects. In consideration of the grant of rights Contributor has made above, the University shall make the Contribution(s) available only under an open source license (i.e., a license that conforms to the definition of open source as it is commonly understood in the industry; for example, the BSD License) and shall use Contribution in furtherance of the Purpose only.
7. Use of Contributor Name and Contributor Certification. If your Contribution is included by the Consortium in any product or platform, then you consent to the Consortium's use of your name to indicate your participation in the Project, and you may use the term "Official iRODSTM Contributor" in your personal or professional self-promotion efforts for so long as your Contribution is so incorporated.
8. No Implied Warranties. The University, on behalf of the Consortium, acknowledges that, except as explicitly described in this Agreement, the Contribution is provided on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, ANY WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF TITLE, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

You agree to notify the Consortium of any facts or circumstances of which you become aware that would make these representations inaccurate in any respect.

Please sign and complete the fields below to indicate your acceptance of the terms of this Agreement.
